

PICK UP A DESIGNER BARGAIN...

Revival Clothes Agency has recently opened above Cassis Ladies Wear on King Street in Belper.

Cassis and Revival are owned and run by local business woman Karen Riley (pictured).

Karen comments: "The opening of Revival offers local ladies the opportunity to browse through a lovely selection of nearly new designer wear and accessories in order to add something with a difference to their wardrobes. Ladies also have the chance to turn their unwanted wardrobe items into cash as we accept designer wear; high quality, high street labels; evening and occasion wear; designer handbags; shoes and hats which we will sell through our shop."

How many times do you buy an outfit, wear it once and then push it to the back of the wardrobe never to be worn again? How many times do you buy a pair of shoes, wear them once to discover they're uncomfortable? How many times are you invited to a special occasion and don't want to spend a fortune on an outfit because you probably won't wear it again? Take a trip to Revival – whether you want a designer bargain or simply to make some extra space in your wardrobe, Karen will be happy to see you.
