

SPOTLIGHT ON: JJN BUILDING SERVICES LTD, LOCAL BUILDING COMPANY

53

Established in 2000, JJN Building Services Ltd is directed by three local men; Jeff Kemp from Holbrook and father and son team; Norman and Jeff Pollicott – both from Kilburn. Jeff Kemp's son, Tom is also employed with the firm as a bricklayer.

JJN have a team of eleven full time and seven part time staff including a plumber, an electrician, ground workers and joiners ensuring that they provide a total, professional service to their clients.

Behind the scenes, Office Manager Sally Jones from Horsley keeps everything ticking over smoothly. Sally explains: "Customer relations are paramount – from the moment we receive an initial enquiry, right through to completion of a job we aim to provide an exemplary service – a service that we are extremely proud of."

Director Jeff Kemp comments: "We follow all of the compulsory Health and Safety guidelines associated with our trade, we are fully insured and many of the team are fully qualified in the operation of plant machinery. We work to the highest standards and always endeavour to leave our sites clean and tidy."

Below is some feedback received from previous JJN clients:

"Dear Mr Kemp, My wife and I would like to thank you for the good work which you have carried out in the re-construction of the steps in the garden of our house. You have improved on my original design and have carried out the project with good workmanship and in good time. We were also pleased by the way that you cleared the site on completion."

Mr and Mrs Green, Horsley

"Jeff, with many thanks for the quick response to my enquiry and for a job well done." Mrs Walmisley, Duffield
