

A lasting keepsake that takes centre stage in your living space

Kilburn based businessman Ed Wilde (pictured) has recently launched Clearly Canvas and his ethos is very simple; he wants to transform your photos into lifelong memories and very personal pieces of art; from your baby's first smile to a family holiday... he'll turn your photos into a stunning piece of artwork – with a more personal approach.

At Clearly Canvas Ed prints your photos onto canvas and then custom hand stretches over a light and strong stretcher frame. Ed comments "I'll take your photos, whether they are digital or already printed and using the very latest in printing technology, print them directly onto the fibre of a durable canvas. The print is then wrapped and stretched by hand around the edge of the frame to make a stunning piece of artwork to hang in your home or office."

Ed has over 10 years experience in the printing and framing industry and he knows that customer service is as important as the canvases he produces. With any local orders he will hand deliver for free the finished canvas and make sure you are completely happy with it. He tells us "There are a number of internet based businesses that print to canvas using many different techniques, but you don't really know what you are going to get with them, in some cases you never even speak to someone. What I'm offering is something different - a unique personal experience, I'll even bring a sample for you to see what you are getting before you decide to buy one!".

Whether it's a wedding day memory, a treasured christening picture, a loved photo of your family pet or even your child's first painting, Ed will turn it into a beautiful and unique boxed canvas print, making a fantastic keepsake for your own home. With Christmas only round the corner, they also make a great gift for someone special.

Whatever your image, allow Clearly Canvas to help turn it into a lasting keepsake that takes centre stage in your living space.

How does it work?

From a photo you've taken on a digital camera, a printed photo or a hand drawn picture (free scanning service included), I'll use the very latest in photo printing technology and transform it into a unique boxed canvas to look great anywhere in your own home.

It's as easy as 1,2,3...

1. Send me your image or let me collect it (free within 3 miles).
2. Choose your print size.
3. Pay for your print.
