

Editor's message...

Welcome to the October/November edition of All Things Local which is packed with editorial features, puzzles, competitions and of course, lots of local advertisers. Don't forget, All Things Local is a totally independent publication run by just one person. I'm not part of a large corporation and I'm not a franchisee, I'm simply a local person who wants to encourage local communities to use local businesses. By the same token, I am providing local businesses an affordable option in which to showcase their products and services.

It's your support that has helped this magazine to become so popular. Many thanks for your messages and for utilising the services of the advertisers, without whom this magazine wouldn't exist.

If you or someone you know is planning a wedding then take a look at the wedding feature starting on page 20. You have the opportunity to enter a fabulous competition to win a set of six Denby wine glasses – see page 23.

The regular prize crossword can be found on page 6 – you could win a meal for two, plus a bottle of wine at The Bulls Head. I extend my thanks to The Bulls Head for sponsoring this edition of All Things Local – turn to the centre pages for their special profile.

This month hails the introduction of Danny Smith, Community Police Support Officer. You can read all about Danny and his role on page 7. Danny will be regularly contributing to future editions of All Things Local.

Another new, regular contributor is local poet, author and artist Roland Boole. Each month I will be featuring a poem from Roland's extensive collection. You can find Roland's first poetic contribution on page 26 ... in keeping with the wedding theme it is about love.

I would like to introduce a new feature for future editions of All Things Local – but I'm relying on you! If you have a handy hint or tip to share with your fellow readers, then turn to page 29 for more details. You could win £20!

Enjoy Halloween and Bonfire Night and don't forget to turn your clocks back on Sunday 28 October!

Remembrance Sunday is on 11 November, please wear a poppy in honour of all who have suffered and died in conflict in the service of their country and all those who mourn them.
