Vet's Tips

Pet Insurance - Don't be caught without it.

Each year, on average, 1 in 3 pets suffer illness or injuries, so unexpected veterinary bills can, unfortunately, occur at any time. We often think of insurance covering treatment of broken bones or wounds following a road traffic accident, but don't forget animals can develop many long-term conditions such as skin disease, ear problems, heart disease and arthritis (to name just a few), for which an increasing range of treatment options are available.

With appropriate insurance cover, you can hopefully ensure that your pet will get the best of care without cost becoming a limiting factor.

If your pet is insured your vet should only ask you to pay the policy excess and anything not covered by the insurance and then they will claim the remainder direct from your insurer.
